CARBONISTE

MODERN SPARKLING WINE

WHO WE ARE

CARBONISTE is a wine brand started in 2017 and dedicated to producing modern sparkling wines from distinct vineyards and varieties in California. It began with the realization that there are styles of sparkling wines that don't exist and deserve to have life breathed into them.

While our primary goal is to make delicious wines, we are not striving to be Champagne. We want to reimagine what sparkling wines can be through taking advantage of California's special terroir.

Our team is composed of Dan and Jacqueline Person, two winemakers based in Napa. After meeting at UC Davis, we worked around the world, then around California. These experiences have informed our perspectives on winemaking. Dan worked for Schramsberg Vineyards for 3 years, making traditional sparkling wines from California grapes. Based on that experience, Dan decided there was a need for a new interpretation of California sparkling wine. Jacqueline was concurrently making still wines from a variety of terroirs across the Golden State, terroirs that have inspired our vineyard selections.

Our wines are made by hand, with the highest level of attention and caring. If there is something we believe will make the wines better for the consumer, we allow it to consume the way we craft the wine. We have hand bottled, disgorged, and labeled each bottle. We are truly excited to have our wines reach the hands of people who will enjoy them.

Champagne is from France. CARBONISTE is California.
